

Honourable Nancy L. Key, KC

On January 5, 2026, Key Murray Law welcomed the Honourable Nancy L. Key as Jurist in Residence. The Jurist in Residence role is designed to bring the insight and experience of a distinguished legal professional to our firm. This position focuses on providing strategic guidance, mentorship, and training to our legal team, supporting professional development, and contributing to client service initiatives. By sharing decades of judicial and legal expertise, the Jurist in Residence helps strengthen our commitment to excellence, continuous learning, and leadership within the legal community.

Nancy Key was a founding partner of Key and Key in 1984. She practiced law from 1982 until October 1, 2013, when she was appointed a justice of the Supreme Court of Prince Edward Island where she served with distinction for 12 years. A strong advocate for giving back to the legal profession and the community, she has contributed her time and expertise to numerous legal and community organizations throughout her career.

She is widely recognized for her strong leadership, relationship-building skills, and commitment to continuous improvement through education.
