

Jeffery A. Cormier

Meet Jeff Cormier, a seasoned lawyer and valued partner at Key Murray Law. With over twenty years of extensive experience spanning corporate/commercial, real estate, employment, estate planning, and family law, Jeff stands as a trusted advisor adept at navigating the diverse challenges and opportunities faced by businesses and individuals alike.

In his role as a corporate and commercial lawyer, Jeff provides insightful guidance on a wide range of matters, from intricate business transactions to nuanced contract negotiations. His leadership as a Chair for Canada within the CBA's National Business Law Section reflects his unwavering commitment to elevating legal standards nationwide.

Jeff's proficiency in real estate affairs shines as he assists clients in navigating both commercial and residential transactions, catering to a broad spectrum of clientele, from first-time homebuyers to seasoned investors.

In the realm of employment law, Jeff adeptly steers through the complexities of wrongful termination and human rights issues, ensuring fair resolutions for both employees and employers.

His meticulous approach extends seamlessly into estate planning, where he assists clients in crafting their legacies through the strategic structuring of wills, trusts, and probate administration. Additionally, Jeff's compassionate guidance in divorce and family law matters offers invaluable support during emotionally challenging times.

Throughout his career, Jeff has earned recognition for his adept negotiation skills and strategic acumen, consistently delivering effective solutions for his clients. His unwavering commitment to excellence has cultivated a strong foundation of trust and loyalty among clients across Prince Edward Island.

Outside of work, Jeff enjoys spending quality time with his children, staying active, and exploring new interests through books and podcasts.
