

Barry W. Malone

Barry is an Associate Lawyer of Key Murray Law, practicing primarily out of the Souris office, but he also meets with clients in Charlottetown to accommodate their schedules and needs.

Barry has strong roots and ties to Eastern Prince Edward Island, as he was born and raised in Souris, Prince Edward Island, and still resides there on part of his family's home farm.

As a general practitioner, Barry provides legal services in a variety of areas. In particular, Barry is very passionate about the Real Estate portion of his practice, as he realizes that his clients are making large investments and are counting on him to protect their interests, which he does by applying his skills, experience, diligence, and passion to the tasks at hand.

Barry takes great pride in all his work, and as a problem solver with an outgoing and down-to-earth personality, he enjoys meeting with his clients and working with them to reach a solution that effectively meets their needs.
