

John W. Maynard KC

John Maynard is deeply committed to his clients and their success. John has extensive experience in criminal defence, fisheries defence, family law and personal injury claims. John has worked for the past 38 years with fishermen and farmers to help them achieve their goals. Other legal services include commercial litigation, personal injury, estate litigation, and real estate and commercial transactions.

As part of his passion for strengthening communities, John has an active real estate practice and assists clients with estate planning and services. John has a particular interest in fisheries law, both transactional and defending fisheries charges. An active community builder, John also runs a practice from Mill River that provides real estate and property advice, litigation services and will and estate planning.

Dedicated and accomplished, John Maynard is a valued asset to the Key Murray Law team. He has appeared before the Supreme Court of Canada, and all levels of the Prince Edward Island courts and administrative tribunals. He served as President of the Atlantic Trial Lawyers Association and currently sits on the executive and education committee for the Association.
